

A space to explore

Imagination is an important aspect in developing creativity. Children are naturals at it; all they need is space and a little encouragement. We have attached some stickers for your child to have a little fun. This flyer also doubles as a canvas for their imagination land and sticker friends.

Born with an appetite for knowledge

Have you ever seen a child notice something – often on the ground – pause to take a closer look, touch it then, (gasp!) put it in their mouth? Children, especially before the age of six, learn and discover the world through their five senses. Tree Top House nurtures a child's love for learning whilst seeding life values such as respect, relationships and having a heart for the community in them. It's done by harnessing what they do best – playing! When children enjoy learning they retain an appetite for knowledge the rest of their lives.

Our esteemed teachers also include two green iguanas

Children learn responsibility by caring for them and other small animals inhabiting the petting room. Tree Top House also has a culinary studio, computer lab, an art room and a music hall to provide a whole range of activities to engage your child creatively and practically. Modern security features in place give you peace of mind when you leave your precious ones with us. You simply must visit; the bright colours and imaginative décor will have you wishing you were a child again!

Although the day is over, the learning never stops

Maria Montessori (founder of the method) observed that children have an inner guide – like a built in teacher – that initiates what's called self-directed learning. By giving them the liberty to choose the activity they would like to do, they are more focused and find greater satisfaction completing tasks. In addition to the Montessori method that we've adopted, we believe in sharing ideas that can be done at home. This encourages interaction and development throughout the day.
